Housemaster

Jonathan's approach to his work is still generally disappointing and he is still far from making the most of his ability. He leads a very full life, with many interests, however and it is not too late to produce a more balanced development.

A. Oettinger

Headmaster

All his reports show general inefficiency and inattention: he seems to be very complacent about it, but it is questionable whether he should be entered for O'Level if he is not prepared to make an effort.
